

PRESS RELEASE

Debut album with a global message

From the heart of Denmark, Rosengreen now releases his debut album World at Your Feet, a global minded album that builds bridges between musical cultures and leaves you with a spirit of the world.

When was the last time you entered Africa, South America, Scandinavia, Southern Europe and the Middle East on the same journey? Well, now you have the chance, thanks to Danish guitarist and composer Nikolaj Rosengreen, an excited young Dane releasing his debut album, World at Your Feet.

Inspired by people, cultures and traditions from all over the world, Nikolaj Rosengreen is indeed a traveller in world music, and that's exactly what becomes clear when listening to his new album. For what does a man do when he feels rooted in so many different cultures? In the case of Rosengreen he invites them all into his music. Just listen to World At Your Feet; You can hear Africa. You can hear the Middle East and you can hear Rosengreens native soil.

A unifying musical dish

As with food where excitement and curiosity result in colourful and tasty dishes, these are also the main spices in the musical dish that Rosengreen has dreamed of serving for a long time. He now hopes that you will try it out with an open mind, and that you will enjoy the richness of musical flavours that he himself values so deeply.

World at Your Feet is released on September 9th. From this date it can be purchased on www.folkshop.dk

Download press photos on www.nikolajrosengreen.com

Facts about Rosengreen

Rosengreen has composed music for the theatre, television and documentaries. Several times, he has been a member of the jury at The Palestine National Music Competition, and he was nominated at Danish World Music Awards in 2008. In 2014 he won the most prestigious Danish theatre award for his musical appearance in the youth show "4 EVER". Furthermore, he has travelled and performed in countries such as Ghana, Mali, Mozambique, South Africa, Palestine, Spain and Sweden.

A traveller in music

Rosengreen started his musical journey in rock music, but in his early years he was taken with classical music as well. However, why choose one before the other? As a teenager it was only natural for Rosengreen to study church organ and play death metal at the very same time.

Consequently, Nikolaj Rosengreen's mix of genres has become the turning point of his musical life, but the genres keep changing. Rosengreen's numerous encounters with countries and cultures across the globe have all inspired his music, and whether the genre is named world music, global fusion music or folk music is of no concern to him. The music simply has to be exciting, sound great and be able to captivate an audience across borders.

Contact:

Phone: +45 27142829

Mail: Nikolajrosen@hotmail.com

Facebook: www.Facebook.com/RosengreenMusic

Homepage: www.nikolajrosengreen.com